DOMESTIC PARTNER INFORMATION FORM

The California Domestic Partner Rights and Responsibilities Act of 2003, which extends new rights, benefits and obligations to individuals in California Registered Domestic Partnerships, became law on January 1, 2005. If you or your parent(s) are in a Registered Domestic Partnership, this legislation may affect your eligibility for state and university financial aid.

If you or your parent were registered as a Domestic Partner at the time you completed your 2006-2007 FAFSA, you are required to request a reevaluation of your financial aid eligibility for state aid only. This reevaluation may result in an increase or decrease in your financial aid eligibility.
