All parent loan proceeds are applied to outstanding current balances the student owes at UC Davis. In practice, it is generally more efficient to request that the payments go to the student. Parents who would like access to the funds can arrange for a "joint checking" account and have the student sign-up for Direct Deposit at directdeposit.ucdavis.edu. The PLUS remainder payment would then be deposited in the account and the student would not have to pick up the check in person and the parents would not need to wait for a check to arrive by mail. Unless instructed otherwise, we assume all proceeds may be released to the student.
